Closing Prayer

David Kern

You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hidden. (Matt. 5:14)

“My Soul Longs”

The psalmist said, “My soul longs, yes, faints for the courts of the Lord; my heart and flesh sing for joy to the living God Blessed are those who dwell in your house; ever singing your praise For a day in your courts is better than a thousand elsewhere. I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than dwell in the tents of wickedness.” (Psalm 84:2,4,10). He knew what genuine worship means to one who loves the Lord.

Oh, that we might grow toward that same kind of hunger and thirst for nearness to God! If we could come together to worship Him because our hearts and souls cry out for Him instead of coming to keep an appointment, we would be so much the richer. We would find that in praising Him we are indeed blessed. We would have our minds brought back to the real values of life, and we would be prepared to meet our responsibilities as servants of God with joy. So much begins with a soul which longs for the Lord.

But what if we discover that this longing is a little weak, that our hearts are not crying out to God? Perhaps we need to take a close look at the direction our lives have been taking. Real worship does not take place in a vacuum. The psalmist talked about trusting God (v. 12) walking uprightly (v. 11), and making appearing before God a priority in life (v. 7). The implication is that one must grow into the kind of desire for worship the psalm is describing. Hunger for God must be developed by doing what we know we should.

Let us then deepen our conviction that the blessed man is the one who is near God. Let us pray fervently that we may be in His presence. Let us gladly take the place of the servant in His house. Only then will we find worship to be something we long for and delight in. Longing for the courts of the Lord will begin to have a powerful impact upon our lives.

Thank You

To Our Church Family,

Thank you so much for your prayers, cards, calls, food and other acts of kindness after the sudden loss of Kirsten's grandmother, Linda Meador. The family would especially like to express their appreciation for the use of the building for the dinner after the funeral Friday. Your love and concern meant a lot to us.

Dear Church Family,

It was so thoughtful of you to remember all of the 2010 graduates. Thank you for honoring Daniel and his accomplishments. And the Bible will be such a helpful gift.

Carol Tovar and family

Thank you very much for the Bible and wonderful graduation reception!

Thanks, A.J. McCall

Dear Church Family,

I would like to thank you all for the wonderful ceremony and party you gave me and my fellow graduates. Knowing my church family cares that much for me in celebrating this time with me has made my graduation even more memorable. Thank you very much.

In Christian love, Daniel Tovar

Check the Giving Tree for apples for VBS & Bible camp supplies. The VBS supplies are needed ASAP. Workdays are scheduled for June 10 and 24 to prepare the crafts for VBS. Or if you would prefer to donate $1 or $2 to purchase supplies, that would be a big help as well.

Golden Messenger for June is available in the foyer. Be sure to note the article about Bro. S.P. Fields.

HELP NEEDED: There are three children from one family who would like to attend a camp session at Happy Hollow this year. Two of the three children need financial assistance to attend. If you can help with a full scholarship of $90 or a half scholarship of $45 for either one of these boys please make your check out to Happy Hollow and give to either Tim Stockstill or Larry Baggett. Thank you.

METHODS CHANGE BUT THE GOSPEL? NEVER!

By Dennis R. Smith

Thinking back over the years of my preaching, I can't help from remembering the different methods that have been used by preachers and teachers in the deliverance of their messages. For example: There was a time when no well-respected minister would have been without his chalkboard. I knew a preacher that used a very effective chalkboard by just drawing a line representing, "Where God Draws the Line." Then there were the years of the flannel boards. No doubt many persons were led to Christ by this method even if some of the words were misspelled. As congregations became a little more affluent, there were the overhead projectors, film strips etc. Today there is power point. You see whatever method that is used - if it works - why change? Visual aides have long been a favorite of some along with the "hand outs" used by many of us. We must not forget that the Greatest Teacher of all often used whatever was available to present His message. It might have been a little child (Matt. 18:1-3), or a clear spot on the ground where he could write (John 8:6). He often used an earthly story with a heavenly meaning. He even used the vine and its branches (John 15). Whether they be word pictures, metaphors, allegories or whatever, the message must always be the same. "Preach the Word - it has the power to save" (Rom. 1:16)!
