THE HONORED HUMBLE

Bill McFarland

Humility has been called “the uniquely Christian virtue.” It’s because one of the basic claims of Jesus’ teaching about how life works, and therefore one of the central convictions of his people, is that those who humble themselves will be exalted. This, of course, directly contradicts the common assumption that the way to get somewhere in life is to promote yourself.

The Gospel of Luke, which we have been reading, is in some ways the Gospel of humility. It not only shows us the Jesus who humbly receives sinners and eats with them, but also the Christ who speaks clearly of how humility behaves. Three scenes in particular illustrate how the honored humble think.

“I will leave the exalting to someone else.” When Jesus went to dine at the house of a ruler of the Pharisees, he couldn’t help but notice how the guests who had been invited strategically sought for themselves the places of honor (Lk. 14:1, 7). They obviously thought they if they were going to make anything of themselves they needed to make themselves the center of attention and admiration by setting themselves above others. The Lord pointed out that such an approach was a recipe for humiliation, but that taking the lowest place and letting someone else exalt you is the way to honor that is real and lasting (Lk. 14:8-11).

“I will wait for repayment at the resurrection of the just.” At that same dinner, Jesus also had some advice for the man who had invited him (Lk. 14:12). It was apparent to the Lord, as he observed the invited guests, that his host was providing the occasion because he thought it might get him somewhere. He had chosen to include people who would be able to do something to exalt him. Jesus advised him instead to extend kindness to those who would never be able to repay it (Lk. 14:12-14). The honored humble can do things with no thought for what they will get out of it because they know the Lord will take care of that.

“I recognize my own dependence upon the mercy of God.” It is not the way of the humble to trust in themselves or to treat others with contempt (Lk. 18:9). Jesus made this point by describing a man who compared himself favorably with other people, and was impressed with his own accomplishments, then contrasting his attitude with that of a man who could do nothing but ask God to be merciful to him, a sinner. This last man, the Lord said, had the kind of spirit which allows one to finally be justified (Lk. 18:10-14).

Let us be people who think like the honored humble. “One’s pride will bring him low, but he who is lowly in spirit will obtain honor” (Prov. 29:23). That is how life has always worked. It still is.

News & Events

Today is the 5th Sunday!! All contributions will go into the Building Fund to be used for our mortgage payments.

Bridal Shower Charles and Susan Crum are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter Megan to John Hollingsworth. The wedding is planned for October 17, 2009. Everyone is invited to a bridal shower for Megan and John on Sunday, September 13, at 2 p.m. in the fellowship room. They are registered at Target, Macy's and Penney's.

Thank you

There are no adequate words to express my love and appreciation to each one of you for the love, prayers and phone calls that flowed from this congregation during the closing days of Pat's life. A special thank you to the Elders, Bill and Dennis for helping to hold this old man together during a very difficult time. Please accept my gratitude without end. All my love to each of you,
Gene Creson

Sometimes God answers our prayers through special people like you. We are still reading the wonderful cards and letters of encouragement you all sent our way. And the offers of help—such a practical way to express your love and concern for our family! How can we ever let you all know how much you lifted our spirits? In Christian love and with much gratitude,
The Tovar Family

Spotlight Family: Brendan, Jenny, Brian & Devin Carroll

The Carroll Family has been with us since November 2008. Brendan is a Social Studies teacher and basketball coach at the Fair Grove High School and Jenny is a stay-at-home mom and homemaker. Brian is 9 and in the 4th grade at Fair Grove, and Devin is 5 and in kindergarten. Brendan and Jenny graduated from York College. We are so happy they chose to be a part of the Water Mill congregation.

THOUGHTS FROM DENNIS ...

Golden Messenger for September is available in the foyer.

Shall we GO Green - or - Shall we GROW White?

In the last fifty or so years I have seen our nation move from one “band wagon” to another. Currently, we are being invited to jump on the “Go Green” vehicle. Whoa! Don't get me wrong! I love the thought of green. In fact, the bible has somewhat to say about this vibrant color. “He maketh me to lie down in green pastures” (Psa. 23:2), says the psalmist. Our Lord, prior to feeding the multitude, commanded the people to sit down on the “green grass,” as Mark described a spring-like day in his gospel (Mark 6:39). We need to always be attentive to our needs as well as to try to sustain our natural resources. But, while we are making such efforts for our nation (and the world), are we making the same kind of response (spiritually) to insure that our black sinful lives - some of which may be green with envy - are washed away in the (red) blood of Christ (Rev. 1:5)? Isaiah spoke of such washings: “...though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool” (Isa. 1:18). The uniform of the day for the redeemed in heaven are “robes made white in the blood of the Lamb” (Rev. 7:13:14). So, shall we GO Green all together, or shall we make time to GROW white as Jesus has commanded?
